

WEDDING | pre-wedding events

This is one of the biggest parties that you will probably ever plan. There are many events that connect with that special day. These events are what we call “bonding events”. Family and friends get a chance to meet each other before the “Big Day”. Don’t become stressed when viewing this list. This is the time to use all those friends and family who have offered assistance during your planning. Choose friends and family that are dependable, reliable, and detail oriented to assist with these pre-wedding tasks.
